

...the house collapsed.

But the wise man built his house on the rock.

When the rains came and the land flooded...

...his house remained standing!

